Down the Road Releases Roots Music

By Stewart Lytle, Sr. Reporter

NORTH SHORE – Local music legends Ken Irwin, Marian Leighton Levy and Bill Nowlin, who founded world-renowned, Boston-based roots music label Rounder Records in 1970, have launched a new record company that is already catching the music world's attention.

Their new entity, called Down the Road Records, recently released Arcadia, Alison Krauss and Union Station's first new album in 14 years. Rounder originally signed the Grammy-winning Krauss when she was in her early teens. Krauss and the band are currently on a 75-city tour in support of that album.

"For more than 50 years, these Rounders have introduced the Obscure, the Ancient and the long almost gone," said Robert Plant, lead singer of Led Zeppelin, who recorded for the label with Krauss, and with his Band of Joy. "And now they continue to court and support the Next Wave reaching high into the New World of meld and mix."

Irwin and Nowlin, who were college roommates, and Levy (whom they met shortly thereafter), were on a mission to promote music that was not being heard in the early 1970s, Levy said last week during an interview at Irwin's Newburyport home. They lived cheap in a Somerville apartment and traveled around the country in an old VW bus to Bluegrass and folk concerts and festivals. They cultivated relationships with artists, and their shared passions and dedication fueled the label's success over the next 40 years.

During those decades, Rounder built an impressive catalog of more than 3,000 albums that earned the trio a place in the International Bluegrass Hall of Fame in 2016. They sold the label in 2010 to Concord Music,

Triton Music Parents Organization Fall Electronics Recycling Event

submitted by: Jenn Foster
TMPO Member

BYFIELD - The Triton Music Parents Organization (TMPO) shares details about our upcoming Fall Electronics Recycling Event, happening on Saturday, September 27th from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Triton High School in Byfield.

This annual fundraiser helps support our district's Music & Performing Arts Program through scholarships, special activities, and equipment funding.

Recycle unwanted electronics for a small fee and support Triton's music, theatre, and arts programs. Items accepted include:

- $5: Phones, Keyboards, Tablets, Cables
- $10: Laptops, DVD Players, Receivers
- $20: Microwaves, Computers, Monitors
- $30: Large Appliances
- $45: TVs

Proceeds directly benefit Triton Arts students by funding instruments, trips, costumes, and performances

Drive-through drop-off with volunteer assistance makes recycling quick and easy.

TMPO is also seeking a secretary and treasurer to join its board. Community members – parents, grandparents, alumni, and friends – are encouraged to volunteer.

For details on accepted items, fees, or to get involved, visit Facebook.com/TritonTMPO or email tritonarts112@gmail.com.

Boxford Water Woes - Andrews Out, Aquarion In

Last week, the following notice was issued by Maria Hardiman, Assistant Secretary of Strategic Communications, Massachusetts Executive Office of Energy & Environmental Affairs:

"Public Water Suppliers have a responsibility to provide safe, healthy, and clean water to Massachusetts residents. The Andrews Farm Water Company has failed to do that. As a result, I've issued a Declaration of Water Emergency, and we are working with the state delegation and the Town of Boxford to quickly restore services and ensure residents have access to clean and reliable water."

is currently experiencing a complete loss of water supply within the entire distribution system.

- PWS are required to continuously maintain the public water supply and are prohibited from terminating, suspending, or otherwise restricting water service to any or all residences.
- The owner of Andrews Farm has been notified that residents have no water and the Town of Boxford has requested an update regarding the status of the system, actions the PWS is taking to restore service and the estimated time full service will be restored.

- After no response was received, Governor Healey issued a Declaration of Water Emergency and the DPU issued an order directing Aquarion Water Company to take immediate operational and management control to restore water service for Andrews Farm customers.
- Through the water emergency and under state law, the DPU has the authority to order an investor-owned utility to take any necessary measures

Plumb Island Comes Alive with participants in PlumFest 2025 (ALL PHOTOS BY ALAN AULSON)

Boys and Girls Club of Lower Merrimack Valley 'Designated Beneficiary' of PlumFest 2025!

NEWBURYPORT – An island-wide celebration of live music and community: PlumFest!

PlumFest is a non-profit volunteer-run organization incorporated as a charitable foundation to bring local musicians, island residents and visitors together to showcase the natural beauty and artistry that make Plum Island such a special place. As an early participant in the “porch-fest” movement that is gaining popularity nation-wide, PlumFest brings our own unique flavor to the mix, with an event that is sure to please.

The entire event is FREE! The hosts volunteer, the bands volunteer, and our volunteers volunteer. This day is all about coming out and sharing the beauty of Plum Island and the music of our community with friends and neighbors. The event took place from noon - 6:0 pm. last Saturday, and collected donations this year for their designated beneficiary, the Boys and Girls Club of Lower Merrimack Valley.

"Basically there were about 50 bands on the whole island, and folks parked at the airport and took buses in or a lot of folks rode bikes," related Georgetown's Alan Aulson of Great Rock Farm / Goats to Go - "tremendous sponaneous crowds in folks backyards who volunteered their sites for the social event."♦

Chris and Dave's first time coming and "it won't be our last."

STEVE MINASSIAN hosted a band on his property at 4 Southern Blvd. Steve has volunteered for seven years and shared: "It's just a great opportunity do so something for the community and for the Boys and Girls Club."

Maria Piraino lives on the island off Old Point Road and shares: "It's the best event of the entire season," as she reads off the locations she'll be visiting next.

Joanne Valone, Maureen Aulson, and Cheryl Galui brings cheers from Georgetown.

Byfield residents: "We love it. Our first year on bikes."

Plant Matters

A Visit to Anything Grows - Salisbury

I had the opportunity to pay a visit to Anything Grows organic farm and nursery in Salisbury and meet with Rijk Gupta and Maura Desfosses. Rijk and I studied Plant and Soil Sciences at UMass-Amherst and were inspired by professor Allen Barker to advocate for and practice organic methods. After graduating from UMass, Rijk earned his MS in Mycology. Maura studied and worked in business management.

They purchased the Herb Farmacy five-years ago and have been expanding production each year. There are less scented geraniums grown now, but there are hundreds of plants offered in pots from the nursery area as well as field grown vegetables, eggs, phenomenal heirloom tomatoes and seasonal flowers offered as CSA. If you are interested in establishing your own organic vegetable, herb, or flower garden, these plant starts are offered in pots in the nursery area. Most garden centers do not offer organic plants for home gardeners. Community Supported Agriculture is a great way to invest in local agriculture by making a financial commitment in advance and later picking up the product during the growing season. Their seasonal flower shares range from Tulips to Dahlias divided into winter, spring and summer shares. This is a great gift idea especially for yourself!

They offer their produce at farmer's markets in Lexington, Amesbury, Marblehead, and Exeter. The Salisbury nursery is open during the growing season (check web site for hours of operation). Farming is unrelenting from May-July - everyday - sun up to sundown. I developed an appreciation for the stressors that farmers endure while working for the USDA. Organic production is more challenging than 'conventional' and more costly. A farm must be certified 'organic' and pay to be certified. Because farms must be profitable, plant growth regimes are only one component of a successful farm operation. Finance, a business plan, marketing and customer service are crucial factors.

Anything Grows encompasses 10 acres with 5 acres wooded and ~ 4 acres in production. Rijk describes the formula as $Time + Space = Yield$. All farm operations need to be efficient and we have a short growing season that includes pressures from insects, diseases, animals and weather fluctuations. Farming is not for the faint of heart...Rijk employs organic pest management such as nematodes to eliminate fungus gnats and rather than using inorganic fertilizers he uses mycorrhizal inoculant to increase yields.

Rijk and Maura have additional projects planned for the farm and the next is a farm stand located at 30 Elmwood St., Salisbury, MA. Visit their website <https://www.anythinggrows-farm.com> and please support local agriculture.

I'd like to thank Rijk and Maura for making time for me. I'd like to thank the people of Massachusetts who help to sustain UMass-Amherst and the college from which Rijk and I graduated which is rated as one of the best agriculture programs in the world.

Belleville Roots Brings Top Artists

By Ava Moeckel, Reporter

NEWBURYPORT – Whether you like great blues, played on a guitar, Zydeco on an accordion, Earl Scruggs-style folk music on a banjo or just exciting boot-stomping Irish tunes, the Belleville Roots Music Series is back bringing to the North Shore audiences memorable music in coming months.

For its 2025–2026 season at the Belleville Congregational Church, 300 High Street, Newburyport, the popular series brings a wide range of celebrated roots music artists to the community.

The season begins on Saturday, Nov. 1 with blues guitarist and singer Corey Harris. In 2007, the Bates College graduate was awarded a MacArthur Fellowship – commonly referred to as a “genius award” – from the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation. The annual grant, which recognizes individuals from a wide range of disciplines who show creativity, originality and commitment to continued innovative work.

Harris was described as an artist who “forges an adventurous path marked by deliberate eclecticism.” That same year, he was also awarded an honorary Doctor of Music degree from his alma mater.

On Saturday, Nov. 22, Zydeco musician Nathan Williams and the Zydeco ChaChas will perform. Williams' big break came when Buckwheat Zydeco recommended him to Rounder Records, which was searching for an accordionist after Buckwheat left for Island Records. The band debuted at the New Orleans Jazz & Heritage Festival in 1988.

Nathan Williams

In 2026, the lineup continues with Téada, a traditional Irish band, on Saturday, March 7, with shows at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Banjo player Tony Trischka and his group will play on Saturday, April 18, at 8 p.m., featuring music of Earl Scruggs with singer and guitarist Michael Daves. The new recording company Down the Road has released an album of Trischka's Scruggs' songs under the title Earl Jam.

The season ends on Saturday, May 16, with the Canadian group Cécilia,

Down the Road

an independent music company in Nashville, TN.

The other early coup for the new label is Earl Jam, an album that features 15 songs by veteran banjoist Tony Trischka, who transcribed songs played by Earl Scruggs and John Hartford in a series of jam sessions that took place between 1989 and 1998.

During the darkest days of the Covid epidemic, Trischka, widely regarded as one of the most important banjoists of the modern era, having played on close to 100 albums, received a thumb drive containing recordings of these jam sessions.

Trischka, a regular at the Belleville Roots Concert Series in Newburyport, keenly understood the significance of the material on these recordings, and immediately set out to transcribe, perform and record these tunes.

which mixes Celtic and Quebecois music.

Belleville Roots is a nonprofit organization supported by local businesses and individuals. Refreshments are available at all shows, and seating is first-come, first-served.

Parking is free on nearby streets, and the venue is handicap accessible.

Georgetown Sand Wars/ Dumping Wars? - Next Steps?

By Lonnie Brennan

GEORGETOWN – Board of Selectmen Chairman Robert Hoover (rhoover@georgetownma.gov) opened last week's meeting with a brief update regarding the court-ordered temporary shutdown of the sand mining operation that was taking place without permits and oversight at 214 North Street.

The operation included extensive excavation and removal of truckloads of sand, with trucks running from early morning until late afternoon and early evening for months.

Two items of highest concern has been the reports of neighbors who witnessed/photographed the dumping of unknown materials and apparently concrete chunks and what they believe were large chunks of asphalt that were trucked in the site. Their concern about the burial of such materials at or near the water table could present future problems.

The excavator removed sand to a depth of 19 feet where he encountered water.

Town Administrator Orlando Pacheco (OPacheco@GeorgetownMa.gov) noted that the state's Department of Environmental Protection has been involved.

Shown below is one such photograph provided to The Town Common by a neighbor to the site.

In a letter to the town's planning board, Peter Durling of Verril-law.com out of Boston stated that his client, the excavator Todd Champlain was involved with "soil enrichment activities he is performing at the Zibell Farm located at 214 North Street in Georgetown (the "Property"). The activities consist of topsoil and subsoil sand removal and replacement with higher nutrient organic compost and soil in order to improve crop yield to support an organic farm on existing agricultural land." ♦

STAN SMITH'S TENNIS CLASS

ROTATE ON THE SERVE

To hit a good serve, you've got to rotate lots of body parts. You should turn your hips and shoulders as you hit the ball. Also, if you are holding the racket correctly, you'll need to rotate your forearm during the serve, so the racket face is flat on contact.

This natural rotation of the wrist and forearm is called "pronation." If you allow your forearm to spin away from your body, turning your thumb downward after contact, you will add power to your serve.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) An offer to help with a stalled project should reassure you that you have a workable plan in spite of the problems in getting it up and running. The weekend brings more positive news.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A past problem about a workplace situation reemerges early in the week. Talking things out helps ease tensions by midweek, but some hurt feelings could linger for a few more days.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Optimistic aspects dominate your efforts. However, expect to confront criticism, some of which might be valid, so keep an open mind. But overall, it's your views that will count.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Social interaction with new people, especially on the job, could be a bit strained in the early part of the week. But the awkwardness passes as you get to know each other better.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Expect news about a follow-up to a workplace change that could make a difference in your career path. Meanwhile, new friends widen the circle for all you social Lions who love to party.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Enjoy your well-earned plaudits for a job well-done. But be aware that some people might not share your colleagues' admiration, and you might have to work harder to win them over.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) It's a good week to recheck your probably already overlong to-do list and decide what to keep and what to discard. Lose the clutter and focus your energy on what's really important.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) This is a good time to take a new perspective on what you've been offered. Expanding your view could help to uncover any pluses or minuses that weren't apparent at first.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Applying the usual methods to this week's unique challenges might not work too well. Instead, use your creativity to find a way to resolve any impasse that develops.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) So what if fate throws some obstacles in your path this week? Just keep in mind that the sure-footed and resolute Goat can get past any barrier by focusing on the goals up ahead.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) This week calls for better communication with people in both your private life and the workplace. Start by asking questions, then pay close attention to the answers.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Potentially beneficial workplace changes could be closer than you realize. Make sure you know what's going on so that you're not left high and dry when the good things happen.

BORN THIS WEEK: You're not timid about pushing to have your aims realized once you've set your mind to accomplishing your goals.

Georgetown Area Organization News

By Alan Aulson

Just a few reminders that there are some great organizations in town that are always welcoming new members.

The Knight of Columbus is a Catholic organization that meets the first Wednesday of each month at 7:00 p.m. on the 2nd floor of the downtown Knight's building. Contact Grand Knight Keith Vicari at 978-979-6088. A few programs include:

- Columbus Tootsie Roll Drive with proceeds to special needs children
- "Flags for the Faithful" provides a new flag for any religious group in Georgetown, and working in conjunction with a local veterans group, provides flags before Veterans day.
- Great Grand Sheep Deeds Land Rush takes place this year on Sunday, Oct. 19th, along with a community crafters/yard sale at the Knight's building.
- Use of the hall by arrangement

The American Legion Post 211 meets on the 2nd floor in Georgetown Town Hall on Oct. 9th. contact Commander Doug Dawes at 978-352-7635. Some activities include:

- America 250 activities to commemorate out country's 250th birthday.
- Scholarship Fund
- Veterans graves - updating flags and cemetery work with the Boy Scouts
- Wreathes Across America program
